SECTION:	GENERAL ADMINISTRATION
SUBJECT:	CODE OF CONDUCT

SCOPE:

This policy applies to the City of West Kelowna Council and all persons appointed as members of Boards, Committees, Commissions, Panels, Task Forces and other bodies by the City of West Kelowna Council (hereby collectively referred to as “Members”).

MANDATE:

The City of West Kelowna is an open, fair, ethical, and accountable local government, where Members will conduct oneself with principles such as integrity, accountability, respect, leadership and collaboration in a way to provide good governance to our community.

Members must:

- adhere to the key values of the foundational principles of responsible conduct identified within this policy and comply with all applicable federal, provincial, and local laws in the performance of their public duties;
- perform their duties and responsibilities in a fair, open and honest manner. Members shall refrain from abusive conduct, personal charges or verbal attacks upon the character or motives of other Members, staff or the public;
- perform their duties in accordance with the policies and procedures and rules of order established by the City governing the deliberation of public policy issues, meaningful involvement of the public and implementation of policy decisions of the City by staff;
- not use City resources not available to the public in general, such as staff time, equipment, supplies or facilities, for private gain or personal purposes; and
- treat other members, the public and City staff with respect and shall be supportive of the personal dignity, self-esteem and well-being of those with whom they come in contact with during the course of their professional duties.

FRAMEWORK:

To achieve this goal, responsible conduct is founded on four foundational principles that provide a basis for how Members fulfill roles, responsibilities, and relationships with one another, staff and with the public.

The four foundational principles will guide acceptable behaviours to assist with providing good governance and decision making.

Members will follow these foundational principles:

- a) Integrity is conduct and behaviour that upholds public interest and promotes confidence.

Therefore, Members, must:

- conduct oneself honestly and ethically,
- be open and truthful,
- protect confidentiality where necessary, and
- make decisions based on the best interest of the community.

- b) Respect is conduct and behaviour that demonstrates due regards, for the perspectives, values, and rights of others.

Therefore, Members, must:

- respect processes,
- respect each other and staff,
- listen courteously and attentively during deliberations, and
- recognize and value distinct roles and responsibilities.

- c) Accountability is conduct and behaviour that demonstrates the willingness to accept responsibility for one's conduct, behaviours, actions, and decisions.

Therefore, Members must:

- accept responsibility or account for one's actions,
- be transparent about how duties are carried out, and
- act in accordance with the law, legislation, bylaws, and policies.

- d) Leadership and Collaboration is conduct and behaviour that demonstrates the ability to lead, guide, and actively listen, while encouraging people to come together around a common goal, objective, or to resolve conflict through collective means and efforts.

Therefore, Members, must:

- lead, listen and positively encourage others,
- create space for open expression,
- advocate for shared decision-making and actively work together to achieve common goals, and
- foster positive working relationships.
